

Mad about science

September 18th, 2018

|

Paula Burch-Celentano pburch@tulane.edu

White coats hang outside a research lab in the Boggs Center for Energy & Biotechnology, one of several buildings that comprise the burgeoning uptown science district of the School of Science and Engineering. Construction of Steven and Jann Paul Hall for Science and Engineering, which will be located between Stanley Thomas Hall and Flower Hall, is expected to begin in 2019.