

Fabrication station

July 13th, 2018

|

Paula Burch-Celentano pburch@tulane.edu

View PDF

A 3D print, left, made from polylactic plastic slowly takes shape in the Tulane Maker Space on Friday morning. Maker Space, located in a former campus machine shop on Engineering Road, is open to all Tulane affiliates with a current Tulane ID. The facility boasts 12 3D printers, two laser printers, and fully outfitted metal and wood workshops.