

Know a great 2019 grad? Tell ‘Tulane Today’!

April 3rd, 2019

|

Tulane Today staff today@tulane.edu

View PDF

Nominate a student in the Class of 2019 to be featured in Tulane Today in the days leading up to the University Commencement Ceremony on May 18. (Photo by Paula Burch-Celentano)

Do you know a great grad from any of Tulane’s schools or at any degree level?

The Tulane University Class of 2019 has many individuals who have had extraordinary experiences or who will embark on exciting post-college chapters. We are seeking nominations of graduates with inspirational stories to be featured in Tulane Today in the days leading up to the University Commencement Ceremony on Saturday, May 18.

To nominate a graduate for a Commencement profile, email Faith Dawson at Tulane Today with the graduate's name, major and contact information, and a few sentences describing why they are notable. Please use the words "Commencement profile" in the subject line.

Selected students will be contacted for an interview and may have their stories published in Tulane Today.

The nomination period is open through noon on Tuesday, April 16. Here are a few student profiles from 2018:

Four-time Tulane grad readies for the future

The Joneses keep up with each other

Runsdorf Public Service awardees strive to change the world

40 years in the making, Tulane graduate reaches new milestone